Alexandria, LA – January 21, 2025 –Alexandria International Airport (AEX) Now Open for Operations

The Alexandria International Airport is pleased to announce that AEX is now open and operational amid winter weather precautions. However, at this time, both Delta Air Lines and American Airlines have canceled their flights scheduled for tonight.

Both airlines are currently working through logistics with flight crews and staffing to ensure a safe and smooth return to regular operations. We anticipate flights will resume tomorrow and encourage passengers to check directly with their airlines for updates on specific flights.

The safety and convenience of our passengers remain our top priority, and we appreciate your understanding and patience during this time.

For further information, passengers are encouraged to contact their airline for the latest updates.

“We are excited to reopen AEX and welcome passengers back,” said Ralph Hennessy, C.M., Executive Director., “While tonight’s cancellations are unfortunate, we are working closely with Delta and American Airlines to support their efforts in resuming normal operations as soon as possible. We thank our travelers for their patience and understanding.”
